

September 15, 2002

To Whom It May Concern:

Marc Lee's work with and advice to Health Resource Partners has been both significant and important to us as we have developed our Internet Marketing. Marc played a key role in helping us get started.

Health Resource Partners is a virtual organization whose focus is primarily online. Marc has worked extensively on our website including having designed its look and feel, its navigation and its structure. We are extremely pleased. Marc has offered sage advice and guidance for our online communications as well.

Working with Marc is delightful. He is responsive and agreeable, always looking for ways to help us improve. That's certainly a part of why we have continued to work with Marc for almost four years now.

Without hesitation I recommend the Internet marketing and web communications work of Marc Lee and Affinity Resources.

Sincerely,

Diane M. Daldrup
Executive Director